

EDUCATION CENTER, Roanoke, Va.

Project completed at Hill Studio Role: Project Landscape Manager/Architect

Project Information: This project was initiated by Virginia Western Community College as a feasibility study on the possible transformation of the vacant Norfolk and Western General Office building into a regional learning center for Higher Education. Vehicular & pedestrian access, public transportation, and parking were studied as well as use of surrounding buildings. An outdoor plaza with shaded seating, and a children's play yard was designed. Paving patterns, walls and fencing details were inspired by details on the historic building.
